ABSTRACT

This handbook outlines programs and services available to Cuban and Haitian immigrants. The first section reviews materials pertinent to the legal status of recent Cuban and Haitian arrivals, and includes: (1) explanations of the legal status of entrants; (2) information on excludables; (3) documentation procedures; and (4) addresses of U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service regional and district offices. Section two discusses the Fascell Stone Amendment which provides funding for Cuban and Haitian immigrants. Program eligibility and services are described, and names and addresses of all participating State, regional and Federal agencies are given. The fourth section outlines sponsorship problems involving the transfer of immigrants with criminal records and/or mental problems. The last section provides tax information for sponsors. (APM)

Washington, D.C. 20201

To the reader:

On April 20, 1980, the Cuban Government announced that all Cubans wishing to go to the United States were free to board boats at the Cuban Port of Mariel. The "flotilla" which resulted brought more than 125,000 Cubans to the shores of South Florida. In addition, during this time, more than 25,000 Haitians fled their country by boat and arrived in Florida.

The Federal Government and the Voluntary Agencies, were faced with the enormous task of resettling these people. Congress has authorized and funded special programs to handle this massive influx. The purpose of this manual is to outline these programs and acquaint the reader with their applications. It is written as something that people working in the field can use to solve immediate problems. The Cuban/Haitian Task Force can provide further and more detailed guidance where needed.

Briefly, the topics of discussion are:

- Legal Status accorded the Cuban/Haitian arrivals (Pages 1-2);
- Benefits available to Cuban/Haitian arrivals:
  - Food Stamps (Page 34);
  - General Assistance (Page 13);
  - Aid to Families with Dependent Children (Page 13);
  - Supplemental Security Income (Page 13);
  - Social Services (Page 15);
  - Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973 program (CETA) (Pages 30-31);
  - Job Corps (Page 31)
- Eligibility Requirements for benefits available thru Department of Health and Human Services (Pages 12-13)
- Unaccompanied Minors (Page 29)
- Procedures for handling problem cases/sponsorship breakdowns
  - Transfer Cases (Pages 37-38)
  - Criminal Cases (Pages 39-40)
  - Mental Cases (Page 41)
- Fascell/Stone Amendment - reimbursements to States for entrant programs (Pages 10-11); and
- Tax credit information for sponsors (Page 42).

We hope that the information provided here will help you assist Cuban/Haitian entrants.

Sincerely,

Wilford J. Forbush
Director
Cuban/Haitian Task Force

James F. Coyle
Assistant Director for Resettlement

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This Manual was written and edited by Juan Carosso under the supervision of Deni Blackburn. The production of the Manual was done by Maria Asencio.

Special thanks are extended to the Voluntary Agencies and the Federal Departments that assisted in the development of this preparation.

Foreward

This handbook has been prepared by the Cuban/Haitian Task Force. It is intended to provide the Voluntary Agencies and their affiliates with a guide to the programs and services available to Cuban and Haitian entrants. In case of revision, updates will be forwarded to National Voluntary Agency Offices for distribution.

It should be made clear that it is not the intention of this presentation to fully explain programs and procedures. For specific guidance, the reader should contact the State or regional office of the appropriate agency. To this end, names, addresses and phone numbers of contact persons have been included at the end of each section.

LEGAL STATUS ACCORDED RECENT CUBAN AND HAITIAN ARRIVALS

Cuban/Haitian Entrant Status

On June 20, 1980, the U.S. Coordinator for Refugee Affairs, announced the Administration's decision to parole the Cuban and Haitian "boat people" into the U.S. as "Cuban/Haitian entrants (status pending)". At that time, the parole encompassed only Cubans who arrived in the U.S. during the period April 21 - June 19, 1980 and who were in Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) proceedings as of June 19, 1980, and all Haitians who were in INS proceedings as of June 19, 1980. Subsequently, that eligibility date was advanced to October 10, 1980.

The parole action was taken by the Attorney General pursuant to Section 212(d)(5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, and was designed to enable Congress to consider legislation offered by the Administration that would create a permanent legal status in the U.S. for Cuban/Haitian entrants. A six-month period was assigned to the parole status, which could be renewed for another six-month period if Congress failed to act.

On December 29, 1980, because the Congress had not acted, Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti authorized the renewal of the parole action for a second six-month period in order that the legislation be considered by the new Congress. Therefore, where initially the status had been granted until January 15, 1981, it had been extended to July 15, 1981. This subsequent directive automatically granted extensions to Cuban/Haitian entrants (status pending) until July 15, 1981. Therefore, those Cubans and Haitians who were accorded the special status do not need to report to INS for the extension.

Concurrent with receipt of the abovementioned I-94 and parole, the entrant may choose to apply for political asylum into the U.S. This application will not conflict with the entrant's parole status.

Post-October 10, 1980 Arrivals

Cubans and Haitians encountered on or after October 11, 1980, and who are determined to be illegally in the United States, will be processed under routine INS proceedings (voluntary departure, exclusion, deportation, etc.) These Cubans and Haitians do not qualify for entrant status.

INS issued a directive dated January 12, 1981, allowing for a 120-day parole status with employment authorized for excludable Haitians encountered in the Miami District on or after October 11, 1980. This instruction was pending a decision on the Sannon vs United States No.80-5088 (5th Cir. Dec. 4, 1980) court order. A decision has now been reached and as of January 28, 1981, INS district directors have been instructed to institute exclusion proceedings against those Haitians who were encountered on or after October 11, 1980, in the Miami District, regardless where they are now residing.

Notices will be sent by INS outlining reevaluation hearing (asylum application, exclusion proceeding, etc.) dates and locations.

Excludables

Cubans ordered excludable by INS will receive a notice to that effect. Until recently, those released would receive I-94 forms stamped, "Outstanding Order of Exclusion/Paroled Pursuant to 8CFR 212.5(b) --Employment Authorized". Now, Cubans released from INS custody who have final orders of exclusion will be given I-94 forms marked "Paroled Pursuant to 8CFR212.5(b) - Employment Authorized". The parole will be authorized until July 15, 1981. The lower left hand corner of the I-94 will be noted with the three letter code "OOE" to designate outstanding order of exclusion. Such individuals will be eligible for Cuban/Haitian Entrant Program benefits, unless theirs is a final non-appealable, and legally enforceable order of exclusion.

Excludable Cubans and Haitians will not be required to report to INS for the new stamp. An individual possessing an I-94 marked with the notation first given may desire the updated notation. In such a case, the individual should go to the nearest INS office for a new I-94.

Current INS policy requires Post-October 10 Haitian arrivals to undergo exclusion proceedings. These proceedings may lead to final orders of exclusion and the return of these Haitians to Haiti.

At present, the Government of Cuba will not take back excludable Cubans. The problem of returning these individuals is now under review by the Administration.

Documentation: The INS Form I-94

Again, Cuban/Haitian entrants (Status Pending) are defined as:

- Cubans who arrived in the United States between April 21, 1980 and before midnight October 10, 1980.
- Haitians who were in INS proceedings (asylum application, voluntary departure, deportation or exclusion hearings, etc.) on or before October 10, 1980, regardless of time of arrival in U.S.

Each Cuban and Haitian entrant (Status Pending), included in the groups cited above, was given INS form I-94 stamped with employment authorized according to the following examples:

There are a number of Cubans and Haitians who met the Cuban/Haitian entrant status requirements who have not reported for the stamps as shown above. In most cases, the entrant arrived prior to October 10, 1980 but after June 19, 1980, the former eligibility date. These Cubans and Haitians should report to their nearest INS office so that their I-94's may be stamped accordingly. The sample below represents a Cuban who is eligible for the stamp and should report to INS.

Cubans and Haitians arriving after October 10, 1980 will be accorded a 120-day parole and do not qualify for entrant status. Those falling under this class are required to follow instructions shown on their I-94's. The sample below shows a Cuban who entered the United States after October 11, 1980, and who is required to report to a local INS office for a reevaluation (asylum application, exclusion proceedings, etc.) of her case.

As explained on page 2, the new annotation is "Paroled Pursuant to 8CFR212.5(b) - Employment Authorized". Again, both annotations are applicable. Such individuals will be eligible for Fascell-Stone Amendment benefits, unless theirs is a final non-appealable, and legally enforceable order of exclusion.

NOTE

If the reader has any further questions regarding the I-94, its uses or an annotation not shown above, he/she is urged to contact the nearest district INS office. Also, the district INS office should be contacted when specified above in this section.

The following map is provided so that the reader can select the appropriate district office according to the State he/she may be in.

FASCELL—STONE AMENDMENT

Fascell-Stone Amendment
(Cuban/Haitian Entrant Program)

On October 10, 1980, the President signed into law the Refugee Education Assistance Act of 1980 (PL 96-422). Under Title V of the Act, the Fascell-Stone Amendment, federal funding is authorized to states for the costs incurred in providing cash, medical assistance and social services to Cuban and Haitian entrants. An appropriation of $100 million for such assistance is available to the President under Chapter III of the Supplemental Appropriations and Rescission Act of 1980 (PL 96-304) enacted July 8, 1980. The appropriation was intended to reimburse states retroactively for their Fiscal Year 1980 costs of assisting Cubans and Haitians, and to continue such assistance in Fiscal Year 1981.

The President delegated responsibility for administering the $100 million for the Cuban/Haitian Entrant Program to the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services. The Secretary designated the Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR) as the agency responsible for reimbursing states 100 percent for their costs of providing assistance to Cubans and Haitians within the funding available. In addition, ORR reimburses states for their costs of providing care for Cuban and Haitian unaccompanied minors.

To date, states (and the territory) receiving Fascell-Stone monies are:

Alabama	Louisiana	Ohio
Arizona	Maine	Rhode Island
California	Maryland	South Carolina
Connecticut	Massachusetts	Tennessee
District of Colombia	Michigan	Texas
Florida	Minnesota	Utah
Georgia	Mississippi	Virginia
Idaho	Missouri	Wisconsin
Illinois	New Jersey
Kentucky	New York

(see Table I for actual grant awards)

Program eligibility requirements and individual funding levels vary from state to state; county to county; and even municipality to municipality.

For those states which have submitted state plans, we have shown in Table I grants awarded for second quarters of FY 81. Table II shows cumulative totals for all social service grants.

BENEFITS AVAILABLE TO CUBAN & HAITIAN ARRIVALS

- III Department of Agriculture

I

BENEFITS AVAILABLE THROUGH

Department of Health and Human Services

The Office of Refugee Resettlement, ORR of DHHS, is responsible for providing assistance to Cuban and Haitian entrants after their initial resettlement into U.S. communities. This is done primarily through existing federal programs which are administered through State governments.

On October 10, 1980, Public Law PL 96-422, the "Refugee Education Assistance Act of 1980" was signed by President Carter. Title V of this Act (the Fascell-Stone Amendment) provides for cash assistance, medical assistance and social services for entrants in the same manner as such assistance is provided to refugees under the Refugee Act of 1980.

Program Eligibility

- I Cubans and Haitians paroled as Cuban/Haitian Entrants (Status Pending).
- II Cubans and Haitians arriving in the United States after October 10, 1980, and who have been released by the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) pursuant to INS regulations and otherwise qualify under any of the categories specified in the Fascell-Stone Amendment.

These categories include:

- (A) Any individual granted parole status as a Cuban/ Haitian Entrant (Status Pending) or granted any other special status subsequently established under the immigration laws for nationals of Cuba or Haiti, regardless of the status of the individual at the time assistance or services are provided; and
- (B) Any other national of Cuba or Haiti:
  - 1. Who -
    - a. was paroled into the United States and has not acquired any other status under the Immigration and Nationality Act;
    - b. is the subject of exclusion or deportation proceedings under the Immigration and Nationality Act; or c. has an application for asylum pending with the Immigration and Naturalization Service; and

2. Who has not been served with a final, non-appealable, and legally enforceable order of deportation or exclusion.

III Expired parole status does not adversely effect eligibility under this program unless a final non-appealable, and legally enforceable order or exclusion or deportation has been entered against the applicant.

Cash Assistance

Such assistance may be provided to the recent Cuban/Haitian Arrivals in one or more of the following programs: Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC); Supplemental Security Income (SSI); and Cash Assistance.

Cash assistance programs provide initial support until the individuals can access social service programs in the interest of achieving economic self-sufficiency.

AFDC is intended to aid children who have been denied adequate support or care due to the death, absence or disablement of a parent. Allotments are set to raise a household's income to the standard of "need" as defined in that state. Eligibility to the program will vary from state to state, since AFDC is a state-administered program.

SSI is accorded an individual on the basis of age (65 or older), blindness or disability. Blindness refers to individuals considered "legally" blind. Disability is defined as the inability to engage in any substantial gainful activity due to medically determinable physical or mental impairment.

Those individuals who are not eligible for AFDC or SSI payments but who would otherwise meet the state's income requirement for AFDC benefits are eligible to receive Cash Assistance benefits under the Cuban/Haitian Entrant Program, at the state prescribed AFDC level.

ORR reimburses states for their share of costs for AFDC and SSI payments and for the full cost of cash assistance to individuals who are not eligible for AFDC or SSI but who qualify for cash assistance benefits.

Medical Assistance

Medicaid may be provided to Cuban/Haitian Entrants (Status Pending) and post-October 10, 1980 arrivals, if they are otherwise qualified according to state criteria. Eligibility requirements, funding levels and programs available in a state will vary according to the states in which an individual resides, since Medicaid is a state-administered program.

The states, however, must provide certain minimum Medicaid benefits such as: physician services, in-patient hospital care, out-patient and rural care, laboratory and x-ray services, skilled nursing care for persons over age 21, and a child health plan known as Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnosis and Treatment.

Medicaid payments are made directly to the providers of the medical services, not to the Medicaid recipients.

Other Medical Assistance

Aside from Medicaid, States may have other medical services available for medically needy persons. Recent Cuban/Haitian arrivals are eligible for such services as would other residents of a particular state.

Individuals in need of emergency medical care should be taken to a state, county or municipal hospital for treatment. Public hospitals must treat indigent persons in such cases of emergency.

Medical services are also available at Community Health Centers and at local Health Departments. Individuals suspected of having a mental disorder should be referred to a Community Mental Health Center for examination (also see "Mental Cases" page 41).

For a directory of Community Health Centers or Community Mental Health Centers write or call:

Social Services

Social Services are a series of programs for which the recent Cuban/Haitian arrivals are eligible (See list below). Although the needs of the arrivals are great in many areas, making these services available to the individual as soon as possible after their resettlement is one of the most effective means of building a solid base upon which each person can proceed toward self-sufficiency.

Social Services include:

1. English as a second language (ESL) instruction. (Limited to persons who are 16 years of age or older and who are not full-time students in elementary or secondary school).
2. Outreach services.
3. Social adjustment services, including:
  - a. Information and referral services.
  - b. Emergency services.
  - c. Health-related services (including mental health).
  - d. Home management services.
  - e. Orientation services.
4. Vocational assistance:
  - a. Career counseling.
  - b. Job orientation.
  - c. Job placement and follow-up.
5. Vocational training.
6. Skills recertification.
7. Transportation and interpreter services.

NOTE

For further information regarding these programs, the reader is requested to contact the local public welfare office. If a resolution cannot be reached, only then should the reader contact the State Refugee Coordinators and Public Assistance Agency and/or the State Refugee Coordinator. If yet further information is needed, the reader may want to contact the office of the ORR Regional Director.

The voluntary agencies are encouraged to communicate with the State Refugee Coordinators' office in arranging resettlements and identifying other services.

Unaccompanied Minors Program

Authority for the unaccompanied minors program has been delegated to ORR. The State Child Welfare Agency will be responsible for the placement of Cuban and Haitian entrant unaccompanied minors within its jurisdiction. ORR will provide technical assistance, whenever needed and appropriate, to facilitate the placement of the minor. Should further problems exist, after consulting with the State Refugee Coordinator, the voluntary agency should contact Beth McDaid, supervisor for the program, at (202) 245-0979.

Unaccompanied minors included in the following categories are eligible for benefits comparable to those available to refugee unaccompanied minors as set forth by the Refugee Act of 1980.

1. Cubans and Haitians paroled as Cuban/Haitian Entrants (Status Pending)
2. Cubans and Haitians who arrived in the United States since October 10, 1980 and have been released by the Immigration and Naturalization Services pursuant to INS regulations.

The same range of benefits and services available to other children in the State covered by the State Child Welfare Plan also apply to Cuban and Haitian entrant unaccompanied minors. If authorized by the Director of ORR, certain additional services may also be provided to these unaccompanied children.

Pursuant to ORR policy, the State Child Welfare Agency must insure that legal responsibility is established by a court of competent jurisdiction for the care and maintenance of Cuban/Haitian entrant unaccompanied minors. Because of family reunification prospects, these children are not available for adoption.

Individual circumstances will dictate the most suitable placement for each minor. Placement option would include individual or group foster care, depending on the specific needs of the child and the resources available in the State.

NOTE

Further and more specific guidance can be attained from ORR Action Transmittal ORR-AT-80-7. For a copy, the reader should contact the office of the Regional ORR Director.

II

BENEFITS AVAILABLE THROUGH

Department of Labor

The Department of Labor (DOL) has made available to Cuban/Haitian entrants (Status Pending), post-October 10, 1980 arrivals and excludables (all whose I-94s are stamped "Employment Authorized") the use of existing programs and services to meet employment needs.

The Employment and Training Administration has the responsibility of entrant participation in DOL programs. These programs include:

- The Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973 (CETA);
- The United States Employment Services (USES) and its affiliated State Employment Security Agencies (SESA);
- Targeted Jobs Tax Credit Program (TJTC);
and
- The Job Corps.

However, no special or additional funds have been earmarked for the recent Cuban/Haitian arrivals; services must be provided within existing resources. Also, entrants will have to compete for positions as would other U.S. resident.

Prospective budget cuts announced by the newly-elected Administration may affect the abovementioned programs.

COMPREHENSIVE EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ACT (CETA)

CETA's goal is to provide training and employment opportunities to increase the earned income of economically disadvantaged, unemployed, or under-employed persons. DOL allocates CETA funds by formula to approximately 473 "prime sponsors" that deliver the training and employment services. "Prime sponsors" are either state or local governments depending on the size of the population residing in the area in question.

Often the prime sponsors will sub-contract with private organizations for provision of training and employment services. Ten Employment and Training Administration regional offices help administer the program and monitor the prime sponsors.

Prime sponsors identify employment and training needs in their areas, plan and provide job training and other services to meet those needs to the extent that available CETA resources allow.

Any individual in possession of an Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) form I-94 stamped "Employment Authorized" is eligible for CETA programs

Entrants also must meet the CETA eligibility requirements that apply to the general population. The exact requirements vary according to the CETA program and the local policies of the regional offices and prime sponsors.

The Job Corps

Job Corps' purpose is to assist young people, between the ages of 16 and 22, who can benefit from intensive programs of education and vocational skills training while living in residential settings. The goal is to help the youths become responsible adults, prepared to obtain and hold productive jobs.

Entrant youths would particularly benefit from this program since the live-in aspect would be conducive to a quick acculturation period. Along with vocational training, English language training would also be provided.

United States Employment Service

The United States Employment Service (USES), through affiliated State Employment Security Agency (SESA) Job Service Offices, provides employment assistance and labor market information to entrants, their sponsors and the voluntary agencies. There are nearly 2,500 SESA Job Service Offices offering local public employment services throughout the United States and its Territories.

Employment assistance consists of:

- Basic employment services, including interviewing, vocational assessment, and job referral; and
- Use of the computerized Instate Clearance System for people with marketable skills.

Labor market information services consist of:

- Sharing job order information and special employability services with voluntary agencies at the local level; and
- Reviewing the Job Bank Opening Summary for those jobs in areas and industries with a high percentage of unfilled openings to identify possibilities for the placement of entrants.

Targeted Jobs Tax Credit

The Targeted Jobs Tax Credit provides tax incentives for employers to hire individuals from certain specified disadvantaged groups. The targeted groups include:

- Recipients of federal Supplemental Security Income (SSI) cash benefits (for the aged, blind, and disabled)
- Recipients of State or local general assistance cash payments for at least 30 days;
- Handicapped persons referred to the employer from State vocational rehabilitation programs.
- Youths, 18 through 24, from economically disadvantaged families.

The voluntary agencies may want to approach private businesses with this DOL program. The voluntary agencies would have to work through CETA prime sponsors and the State Employment Security Agency to develop a proper arrangement.

NOTE

For further information, refer questions to the State Employment Security Agency. If a resolution to the matter cannot be reached, only then should the regional Employment and Training Administration office be contacted.

Department of Agriculture

The Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) administers the food assistance programs for USDA, including Food Stamps, the Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC), and the School Lunch and Breakfast programs. Cuban and Haitian entrants (Status Pending), Post-October 10, 1980 Arrivals and excludables are eligible to apply for these programs on the same basis as other legal residents of the United States. USDA food assistance programs are operated in cooperation with State and local governments.

Food Stamps

The Food Stamp Program (FSP) is a voucher program designed to ensure that U.S. residents living below the poverty level receive a diet that meets basic nutritional needs. Eligibility for FSP is based on the income and resources of the members of a household.

Cuban and Haitian entrants (Status Pending) are currently in possession of an Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) Form I-94 stamped,

"Cuban-Haitian Entrant (Status Pending)
reviewable January 15, 1981. Employment authorized until January 15, 1981".

This status has recently been extended for another six months, through July 15, 1981. However, INS has determined that no additional stamp will be placed on the I-94 to indicate the extension.

Also, Post-October 10, 1980 Arrivals and Excludables are eligible for FSP. Such individuals received I-94's stamped accordingly.

For Food Stamp purposes, these annotations shall be considered acceptable verification of alien status as well as an authorization for food stamps. It should be noted that to participate in the program, along with possessing the stamped I-94, the entrant must meet all other food stamp verification requirements and must be otherwise eligible to participate.

School Breakfast and Lunch

The Child Nutrition Act of 1966 authorizes federal subsidies to schools serving breakfast to children, while the National School Lunch Act provides funds to those schools serving lunch. In both cases, special subsidies are available for meals served to children from low-income families.

Women, Infants and Children (WIC)

WIC is a supplemental food program for pregnant and lactating women, infants and children up to the age of five who are nutritionally deficient due to diet and sub-standard income. During the six-month certification period, WIC participants receive vouchers for the purchase of specific nutrition food in retail markets.

WIC also includes a nutrition education component, designed to educate participants in how to select the best diet for good health.

NOTE

Should a problem arise the voluntary agency is requested to contact the local welfare office and exhaust whatever means are available at the community level. If a resolution to the matter cannot be reached, only then should the State and regional Food and Nutrition Service offices be contacted.

Transfer Cases

In the few cases when voluntary agencies are presented with individuals who exhibit serious anti-social behavior, (i.e. repeated incidents of alcoholism, substance-abuse or disruptiveness) the Cuban/Haitian Task Force (CHTF) has made arrangements to transfer these cases from the resettlement program. To consider an entrant as simply being anti-social, does not make him/her eligible for transfer. The entrant must constitute a danger to the voluntary agency, its program and the general public. However, he/she cannot be mentally ill or a convicted criminal (see pages 39, 40 & 41)

It must be borne in mind that this alternate program is available as a last resort. That is to say, all resources at the disposal of the voluntary agencies are to be exhausted before referral of the entrant to the program. Finally, due to the limited size of the program, CHTF reserves final discretionary authority in all transfer cases.

The program into which the entrant would be transferred, operates on a stringent regimen. An entrant must agree, through signed contract, to abide by the rules and regulations of the program. To renege on the contract would automatically place the entrant in the custody of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. The entrant would be sent to a Federal Correctional Institution to await deportation proceedings.

Only in the case of a parole revocation is the voluntary agency absolved of the responsibilities regarding the entrant.

It is imperative, for reasons discussed above, that voluntary agencies with possible transfer cases strictly adhere to the following procedure.

When all efforts have failed at the community level, the local voluntary agencies should contact and provide the following information to the appropriate regional or national voluntary agency office:

- Name of entrant
- Current address
- Alien number

- Detailed description of behavior (i.e. - repeated incidents of alcoholism, drug abuse, refusals to work, disruptiveness, or other problems); and
- Detailed description of attempts to deal with behavior.
- A statement, in writing, that the sponsorship has broken. The statement is to be forwarded to the CHTF by the regional or national voluntary agency office.

It is possible that upon receiving this information the regional or national office may suggest an alternative to a transfer. If not, the regional or national office will contact the appropriate CHTF officer with all the pertinent information.

Finally, if the entrant is deemed transferable by CHTF, the voluntary agency will have to bear the costs of transporting the entrant to the program site.

Criminal Cases

Suspected illegal acts allegedly committed by an entrant must be immediately reported to the proper police authority for appropriate action. Public charges must be filed if he/she is to be removed from the community.

In extreme cases, when the seriousness of the offense is such that the local voluntary agency feels it can no longer deal with the entrant, the local agency should refer the matter to its regional or national office. The local agency will be required to provide its regional or national office with the following information:

- Name of the entrant;
- Alien number;
- Date of birth of entrant;
- Police Department and name of officer who assisted;
- Name of person filing charge;
- Relevant details of case, including prior behavior; and
- A statement, in writing, that the sponsorship has broken. The statement is to be forwarded to CHTF by the regional or national voluntary agencies office. Copies should also be forwarded to the District and Regional Immigration and Naturalization (INS) offices.
(see pages 6 thru 9 for appropriate addresses)

Upon receiving this information the regional or national office may suggest some alternative action. If not, the regional or national office will contact the appropriate CHTF officer with all the pertinent information.

If the offense warrants revocation of parole, CHTF will refer the matter to the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS). Only CHTF has the authority to request a detainer be placed on an entrant by INS. Once INS is notified, it will determine what further action is required.

In extreme cases, INS will encourage state authorities to prosecute and a detainer will be placed on the alien if appropriate. After the subject has been convicted, served his sentence, or the sentence has been suspended, INS will revoke the parole and the alien can be sent to a Federal Correctional Institution for an exclusion hearing if a 212(a)(9) excludable charge can be established.

It must be made clear that only INS has the authority to revoke paroles. And, final decision rests solely with the district INS Director and his superiors.

Mental Cases

An entrant, suspected by a voluntary agency of being mentally disturbed, is to be referred to the nearest Community Mental Health Center for a complete psychiatric evaluation. In the absence of such a center, the voluntary agency is urged to consult a private psychiatrist/psychologist.

If the entrant is diagnosed as being mentally ill, the voluntary agency will be expected to take the appropriate steps. The evaluator's findings will dictate what those appropriate steps are to be - whether it means institutionalization or out-patient treatment.

If the entrant is deemed normal but found to have problems adjusting, the voluntary agency will be responsible for providing counseling and orientation sessions. In the event that the needed services are not available in the community, the local voluntary agency should contact its state, regional or national office to determine an alternate locale or region where the services can be provided.

NOTE

A directory of Community Mental Health Centers can be attained upon request. The voluntary agency should write or call the National Institute of Mental Health at:

TAX CREDIT INFORMATION FOR SPONSORS

Internal Revenue Service

Households sponsoring unrelated Cuban/Haitian entrants can claim him/her as a dependent if:

- The entrant lives as a member of the household for an entire calendar year;
- The entrant has a gross income for that year of less than $1000;
- The entrant did not file a joint return with his/her spouse; and
- The sponsor furnished over one-half of the entrant's total support for that year.

If the entrant is a father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law, he or she does not have to be a member of the household for the entire year to be claimed as a dependent, as long as he or she meets all the other three requirements above. Blood relatives will be handled under normal procedures.

If a church sponsors a group of entrants or a family and forms a committee to provide them with housing, food, clothing and any medical needs, the church members can claim, through itemized deductions, any contribution to the church committee as donations to charity.

If someone takes a refugee family into his home through a charitable resettlement agency, and provides living quarters in his home, as well as food, clothing and other incidentals for which he receives no remuneration, he should itemize his expenses as charitable contributions. However, the family would not be considered dependents under this arrangement.

Note

Any questions regarding taxes and deductions for entrants should be referred to the local Internal Revenue Service.
